

Spelling-Error-Detection-And-Correction

In this project, we have worked on spelling error detection and correction, by implement a noisy channel model for spelling correction. We have implemented an error model, and two different language models for comparison. In this project, we implement both a unigram and bigram language model and a more-advanced approach for smoothing (Kneser-Ney approach).